Rest Room.

The following persons were appointed to serve as a committee from the Century Club to confer with the P. E. O.'s and U. D. C. regarding the selection of a suitable place for a "Rest Room," Mrs. Aaron Boulware and Mrs. Thos. Proctor.

This is the first practicable move in the direction for a Citizen's Union. May the good work go on for an up-to-date Monroe City.

PARIS GREYFRIARS'

Club Entertained Saturday Evening. Program Consisted of Music, Oratory and Feasting.

On receipt of an invitation to attend the Greyfriars' banquet last Saturday evening, we prepared to spend an enjoyable evening but did not anticipate all the pleasure that was for those in attendance.

An abundance of good things to eat was provided by W. E. Flanders, the jolly postmaster at Paris, the steward for the occasion.

This was properly prepared and delightfully served by the ladies. The menu is given below so you can see what was provided.

Oyster Cocktail

Olives, Pickles Celery.

Quail on Toast

Oyster Patties Allen Punch

Hot Light Rolls

Roast Turkey, Cranberry Sauce

French Peas

Mashed Brown Potatoes

Chicken Salad

Cheese Rolls

Steamed Pudding Hard Sauce

Cocoa Coffee

After Dinner Mints.

Cigars

Mesdames Stella Grimes, Frank W. Allen, Misses Frances Grimes and Pat Bodine rendered several musical numbers which were greatly enjoyed.

Senator F. W. McAllister was toastmaster and he filled the place with great credit.

Hon. W. T. Ragland delivered an address on "The Mission of the Greyfriars." The address was full of good things.

Dr. N. M. Basket gave an interesting talk on "The Helpfulness of Jesus."

Hon. James A. Reed's subject was "The Golden Age" and he ably handled his subject and many were his flights of eloquence and oratory

An Apology.

To the Editor of the Democrat.

Dear Sir:

From time to time I have been invited to participate in the union services but have refrained from stating publicly the reasons of declination.

At the union service Thanksgiving day I was privileged to speak at the close of the sermon regarding the two main propositions. One that I would be unable to reciprocate the courtesy by arranging to hold a union service in the Episcopal church as it would be in strict violation of the Canons of the church. Another question involved is that our services are strictly Liturgical never extemporaneous.

Time did not permit me to say as much as might be said, hence I am asking space in your paper to add a few words and I am sure they will be received in the same kindly spirit as when I spoke at the union service.

The Episcopal church most gladly and thankfully affirms that individual members of the Protestant congregations who have been baptized with water in the Name of the Trinity are members of the Holy Catholic church quite as truly as we are.

Also that we gladly bear testimony that many gospel truths are preached with much power and that God has blessed such preaching of Protestant ministers by the conversion of many souls to Himself.

We also know much to our shame that some Protestant denominations have far surpassed the Episcopal church in America in their generous gifts to missions, a type of generosity which is beyond praise.

And finally we unhesitatingly affirm that while God has never been without a church on earth from the time of Abraham extending itself in His Holy Catholic church throughout the world as the "ordinary" means of salvation with its Apostolic ministry. Faith and practice we are sworn to be obedient to its rule, i. e., those who know it and understand what it represents, yet we do not for one moment assert that God "cannot and does not" work independently of the church. He creates in saving and blessing those who sincerely seek Him and try to live according to the light they have received.

Yours Sincerely,

H. C. GOODMAN.

Railroad Material Here.

Latimer and Funk of the Hannibal and Northwestern railroad company, otherwise known as the interurban, have been in the city for several days receiving material for the new railroad bridge which will be placed over North river. Several car loads of cement have been hauled to barns in the vicinity of the location and a car load of wheel barrows and shovels have been received. The promoters claim they will begin work on this bridge this fall if the weather permits. Palmyra correspondent to Hannibal Journal.

New Things.

The alley behind the Rogers & Thompson department store is being made a concrete and cement one.

A. J. Cramer is building a three room house.

L. McKee is building a three room cottage.

Fire.

At 4 a. m. Monday E. E. Edwards built a fire that cost him dearly. After starting the fire he went to the stable to feed and when he started back to the house saw the roof was ablaze. A defective flue caused it.

Everything on first floor was saved, but everything on second floor was lost and the family being asleep upstairs came within an ace of being lost also.

We understand he had $400 insurance on the house and $100 on the household goods.

The engine saved the frame houses near the burning building and that is about all any engine is expected to do.

C. Clay, of Ursa, Ill., was with his Monroe friends Saturday and they were glad to see him. When he went away it was thought that possible he might return shortly for a better half, but from present indications he has lost his heart to a maiden of uncertain age at Ursa.

Mrs. H. W. Ely has return from an extended visit with relatives near Novelty. She was accompanied home by her son, A. C. Ely.

English Coon Hunt.

Missourians, Virginians and Kentuckians hunt the festive coon at night, but E. S. Hampton had been reading of the English lovers, ladies and gentlemen, of the fox chase did their hunting in day light, so decided to have a coon hunt a la English.

His guests son George L. Tom, Lewis and Misses Laura, Lucile, Bab. Laura and Imogene Bell, Lucy Hampton, H. A. Ford and Mr. and Mrs. E. Q. Studebaker, arrived horse back and then they trooped off for the "tall timber."

They found several large trees that looked like coon trees because they had holes in them and then the axes were brought into play and the chips flew and the holes grew larger until they were big enough for a brown bear to get in to or out of but "narry" a coon did they find.

They had the hunt and the pleasure of the horse back ride which eased the disappointment.

Operated.

Dr. J. R. Christie of Quincy came over Sunday and assisted by Dr Geo. L. Turner operated on Mrs. Dawley Jones and removed her appendix.

Miss Agnes Reichoff has been with friends in Chillicothe.
